

Tung-Hung Su

• Current position:

- Attending Physician (Hepatology), Department of Internal Medicine, National Taiwan University Hospital.

• Specialty:

- The diagnosis and treatment of chronic hepatitis B, C, liver cirrhosis, and liver cancer

• Education:

- PhD, Graduate Institute of Clinical Medicine, National Taiwan University College of Medicine
- MD, National Taiwan University School of Medicine, Taipei, Taiwan

• Career and certification:

- Clinical Assistant Professor, Department of Internal Medicine, National Taiwan University, Taipei, Taiwan
- Attending physician, Department of Internal Medicine, Division of Gastroenterology, National Taiwan University Hospital, Taipei, Taiwan
- Attending physician, Department of Internal Medicine, Kinmen Hospital, Ministry of Health and Welfare, Taiwan

• Reminder from Dr. Su:

Liver disease is an important disease in Taiwan.

Currently, there are potent medicine to control chronic hepatitis B, and cure chronic hepatitis C. A regular follow-up and early treatment can reduce the development of liver cirrhosis or liver cancer. To maintain a regular lifestyle and exercise; to eat a balanced diet, and to stop unnecessary medications are the first step to care of our liver.

Online Registration : Register

NTUHF